GERMANTOWN.

E. W. Bell and wife are visiting in Lewis County.

Rev. Welburn Hiner, of Brooksville, preached at M. E. Church, South, on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Fannie Taylor and children returned to their home at Pineville on Monday morning.

Miss Nannie Erlon has returned from a visit to Covington and Cincinnati and appears improved in health.

T. M. Dora attended the funeral of his brother-in-law, Dr. Coomer, at Connersville, Harrison County, returning home on Saturday.

The members of the Christian Church have accepted the offer of the M. E. Church, South, and will hold their Sunday school and church services in that church while theirs is being repaired.

The senior pupils of our school, accompanied by their teachers, Misses Adah Joly and Mary Pogue, accepted an invitation from Mr. Wood Wallingford and sister to spend last Thursday evening at their hospitable home near Hebron, and we presume were delightfully entertained, as we have no doubt one of the young ladies expressed the sentiments of the entire party when she said, "She never had so good a time and so much fun in her life."

Tuesday night, Nov. 14th, was one long to be remembered by our people. Part of them were at M. E. Church, South, enjoying an elegant discourse by Rev. Porter, of Maysville. In the midst of the discourse the alarm of fire was heard at the Christian Church. Elder South had preached and closed his services early in order that his people might go to the other church. The audience had all left the church except Mr. H. C. Pepper and Mr. Ed. Harris, the janitor. The latter took hold of the bottom of the chandelier in order to pull it down and extinguish the lights as usual, when it let loose in the gallery and came down. With presence of mind he gave it a tilt from him, and thus doubtless saved himself from an awful fate. With Mr. Pepper's aid he threw some carpets over the blaze and they made their escape. In a few seconds the interior of the building was a mass of flames, but to the surprise of every one the fire was soon extinguished, leaving a dense volume of smoke. "The burning bush was ablaze but not consumed." After waiting for some time for the smoke to escape the people entered with lanterns to witness the sad ruin it had wrought. The paint was burned from all the woodwork, from gallery to pulpit and ceiling to floor, and the wood charred in many places. Several benches almost consumed entirely, the pulpit and large chairs badly burned, the Bible and hymn books badly burned, carpets burned, walls blistered and blackened, every window in the house shivered by the intense heat and the shutters partly burned. Now will some one tell us why the fire went out? The most reasonable suggestion we can make in a human point of view is that it takes oxygen to support a fire as well as human life, and the intense smoke from the coal oil shut off the supply, filled every part of the building and thus furnished the means of smothering the fire it had started. The members of the church, with their characteristic energy, have gone to work and will have the building repaired as soon as it can be done. By liberal subscriptions from each other and aid from outside friends they already have the amount well assured.

TUCKAHOE.

Corn is being cribbed rapidly.

Tuckahoe has been firing off victory guns for the "Dems" who "got there."

Robert Lauderback left for Cincinnati last week. His friends are sorry to give him up.

Mrs. R. G. Kirk entertained a number of her friends with an elegant dinner party last Friday.

Misses Crowder and Bouldin, of Virginia, are guests at the home of J. E. Bouldin and W. Scott Osborne.

Mrs. Nep Bacon has returned from a pleasant visit to her daughter, Mrs. Henry Holton, of Indianapolis.

Invitations are out for a party at "Woodlawn," the beautiful home of Mr. Tig Holton, on next Thursday evening.

Rev. J. W. McGarvey, of Lexington, gave a very instructive and entertaining lecture at Beasley Creek Church.

The "As You Like It" Club gave a most enjoyable open session at "Ingleside," the home of Mr. Scott Osborne, on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Alma Bouldin, of Danville, Va., and Miss Crowder, of Abingville, Va. The house was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums. Members of the club gave an enjoyable and entertaining program, after which a substantial menu was served in the dining room. The hostess, Miss Annie Osborne, presided in her usual graceful and winsome manner.

WEDONIA ITEMS.

We need a first-class blacksmith at this place. R. M. Harrison lost a valuable cow the past week.

C. F. Cook is slaughtering a great many turkeys for Thanksgiving.

R. M. Harrison is building an ice house on his farm near Ford's store.

Curis Williamson, of Maysville, called on friends here the past week.

The M. E. Church of Helena has received a new roof which was much needed.

A new bridge is being built across the branch of Mill Creek, near Cord's Mill, by the county.

Rev. W. S. Willis, of the Christian Church of Fleuningsburg, was calling on friends here the past week.

Mrs. Wm. Saffell and children, of Virginia, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cord, near this place.

Mrs. Riley and Miss Anna Myall, of Mayslick, spent Wednesday of last week with their sister, Mrs. James M. Walker.

J. H. Reo, of Cincinnati, who came here to vote for Goebel, is spending a few days with his children and waiting returns.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Cord returned to their home in Covington, after spending a few days with friends and relatives at this place.

Parents of children attending school at this place should be more strict with the boys and not allow them to jump on vehicles, for there is danger of their getting hurt, and it is very annoying to the occupants.
